FIVE YEARS IN PARLOR

Sentence of Mrs. Liliuokalani

Dominis the Ex-Queen.

Also to Pay a Fine of Five Thousand

Dollars

CUMMINS AND DAVIES.

Major Geo. C. Potter, aide to the President, waited on the ex-Queen, Mrs. Liliuokalani Dominis, and read to her the sentence of the Military Commission, as modified by the Executive. Major Potter was accompanied by Major McLeod.

Originally the sentence was imprisonment at hard labor for five years and a fine of five thousand dollars, the minimum sentence of the law for treason.

The Executive exercised its clemency in abating hard labor to imprisonment without labor in the Executive building.

It is to be presumed that Mrs. Dominis will be confined in the parlor now occupied by her in the second story, opposite the office of President Dole, although no official information could be gained for this publication upon that point.

The sentence dates from the 9th day of February.

While her sentence was being read to her, the ex-Queen was attended by her counsel, Paul Neumann, and her agent, Charles B. Wilson, and her companion, Mrs. Wilson.

Major Potter went to Oahu Prison afterward to announce their sentences to John A. Cummins and Captain William Davies.

Mr. Cummins is sentenced to pay a fine of five thousand dollars and to be imprisoned until the fine be paid.

Captain Davies is sentenced to ten years' imprisonment at hard labor and to pay a fine of five thousand dollars, but the Executive, taking into consideration his services as state's evidence, orders enforcement of the sentence suspended until further order.

What Shall We Drink?

When the rays of Old Sol are boiling down at a ninety degree rate, the air like the breath of a furnace and everything hot, dry and dusty, the natural desire of the average human is to drink. But, what to drink? There's the question.

The serious effect of an over-indulgence in ice water is well known. The thousand and one cheap gassy beverages are known to be more or less injurious to the health, while the mineral waters of known purity and healthfulness are a luxury beyond the reach of but few. What shall we drink?

A beverage to meet the requirements, must, first of all, be absolutely pure and non-alcoholic. It should possess a medicinal element to counteract the effects of the heat and keep the blood pure and the stomach healthful. In order to be palatable and refreshing, it should be sparkling and effervescent. Last but not least, it must be economical and within the reach of all. A beverage that fully meets all of the above requirements and one that is entitled to more than passing mention is HIRES' ROOT BEER, manufactured by the CHAS. E. HIRES & Co., of Philadelphia, U. S. A. This preparation has been analyzed by the highest authorities and pronounced by them to be free from any deleterious substance and absolutely non-alcoholic; while all physicians acknowledge its health giving qualities. It has a delicious, appetizing flavor, is full of snap, sparkle and effervescence, and is without a peer as a refreshment.

A package from your storekeeper will make five gallons of this great temperance drink. Truly it answers the question—What shall we drink? There are many substitutes and imitations of HIRES' ROOT BEER offered for sale which should be carefully avoided.

Testimonials:

"We have used your Root Beer for over a year and find it delicious and healthful. We would not like to be without it a single day. We find it is helping all of us.—Mrs. F. H. CLARK, 735 Chester St., Oakland, Cal., U. S. A."

"We have used over one hundred bottles of your Root Beer, drinking it winter and summer. My brother and myself are total abstainers, drinking nothing but Hires' Root Beer.—MICHAEL KELLY, 16 Water St., Waltham, Mass., U. S. A."
